FAQ:

- # Employees: 5 waiters, 2 busboy, 5 chef, 1 manager
- Cash/Card? Accept cash and credit cards.
- What kind of technology are they currently using? Pen and paper
- Will it keep up with employee schedules? No, just the hours worked
- Is there Clock in/ clock out and Login/ logout? Clock in/out for shift is needed.
- Is there a budget? I have some ideas, but it depends on which proposal/project plan is the best.
- Can we have the IDs & Passwords for employees, or will we create them? The employees have a 6-character alphanumeric ID, The password should be easy to remember and enter but should have some checks so it cannot be 1111 or 123456.
- Does there need to be an auto log out? No but there should be a simple button on the screen that does the log out.
- Ability to do refunds? Yes, with Manager approval
- How many people does one table hold? Tables hold 1-4 customers. Check the floor plan and table layout.
- Should we be able to edit table names Not at this time.
- How frequently is inventory checked? weekly
- What specific tasks should be monitored for efficiency?
 - ✓ The interval required preparing a table for a new customer.
 - ✓ The interval from when a customer is seated until they have placed their order
 - ✓ The interval from when an order is ready to when it is served to the customer
- Should the data that collected be stored in a specific way? The data needs to be stored in a manner that lets it be queried. That can be from a database or a file system.
- Is it manger's task only to modify/add/remove tables? No, the manager does the scheduling of all the staff, ordering and receiving supplies, keeping track of hours, fills in as a relief in any role, updates the menu, etc.

- Does anyone need ability to change table status besides busboy and manager? The waiter should be able to mark the table as dirty when the customers have paid and are ready to depart.
- Do you know how these roles (Cook, Waiter and Busboy) should function in the software?
The cook should have a couple of displays in the kitchen. They should have touch screens and mouse/keyboard options. The cook's only interaction is to prepare the food for the orders and then use the system to indicate that the order is ready and remove it from the display once it has been delivered. The busboy should be able to change the status of the tables, primarily from dirty (red) to ready (green). The waiter should be able to change table status from ready(green) to dirty(red).
